What warning to California that may follow the passage there of any land bill discriminating against the Japanese was sounded in Tokyo today at a mass meeting of thousands of young men.

At the close of the meeting the young men served notice that unless California modifies its attitude towards the Mikado's subjects the growing irritation of the Japanese may go beyond restraint.

Commercial Leaders Warn.
Not only will the commercial leaders of Japan refuse to exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco, but, irrespective of the government's attitude, an embargo will be placed by them on all California ports, should the anti-alien land bill be passed, according to an announcement made in Tokyo today.

California Passes Webb Bill.
After a bitter debate, in which the Democratic members of the state senate led in warning advice to the majority to proceed with caution in whatever might be done in the matter of anti-alien legislation, the Webb anti-alien land bill, somewhat amended, was passed this morning (Saturday) at a quarter to one o'clock.

The final rollcall, when the opposition to the measure had been flattened out by the pounding of the majority, showed thirty-six for the bill to two opposed.

By a vote of twenty-five to thirteen, the California senate today adopted an amendment to the anti-alien land bill, providing that aliens not eligible to citizenship may lease lands in the state for a period of three years.

Bryan in Conference.
A long executive conference of Secretary Bryan with Governor Johnson, Attorney-General Webb and Senator Boynton, administration leader, preceded the action of the senate.

"Boss rule in America has ended."

This declaration, coming direct from President Woodrow Wilson and voiced as a warning to the machine leaders of New Jersey, who are fighting his plans for jury reform, struck a responsive chord throughout that state today. Plans for jury reform were formulated by the president when he was governor of New Jersey and his mission now is to lock horns with former Senator Smith and other machine leaders, who say they will control the special session of the legislature next week and intend to hold back the reform measure and submit it to a referendum vote.

A redhot verbal assault, directed at Representative Mann of Illinois and Representative Fordney of Michigan, was voiced in the house during the tariff debate today by Representative Thomas of Kentucky.

Fordney was characterized as the "hairless wonder from Michigan." Referring to Mann, Thomas said: "I just want to tell that bewhiskered gentleman from Illinois that these are dog days, when we are shearing sheep, and I would advise him to go and get shaved. I will bet he has cost the government ten million dollars since he has been rattling around here."

Mann, white with rage, was on his feet instantly.

"The gentleman from Kentucky," retorted Mann, "addressed himself to the hair on my face. He says I am bewhiskered. I am, but I am not bewhiskered."

The house, which had been laughing, was silenced by Mann's quip.

Blood-curdling stories of brutal murders of Americans in Mexico were told at Galveston today by fourteen Americans and Englishmen, who have just arrived on the steamer Beryl. Nine women and six men made up the party, several of the women having left the bodies of their murdered husbands on Mexican soil.

Sentiment against Americans in Mexico, the refugees declared, is worse under the Huerta regime than under the Madero government. Hundreds of other refugees, it was stated, were at Tampico and other ports, unable to escape.

Most of the American refugees at Tampico, it was said, are penniless.

Chihuahua City, in the State of Chihuahua, Mexico, is facing capture by a big insurgent army, according to reports received here today. Three thousand federals are rushing from the South to the defense of the city.

President Wilson was warmly welcomed on his arrival at Jersey City yesterday evening to campaign on behalf of the Jury Reform Bill, soon to be fought out in the state legislature. The president threw himself into the fight on behalf of the bill and strenuously campaigned among the legislators already there.

Representatives of the powers attending the conference of ambassadors, speaking unofficially, announced that the danger of war between Austria and the Balkan allies, while still existing, is by no means as threatening today as it has been at any time during the past week. Austria is inclined to adopt a less peremptory tone towards Montenegro and Serbia, which nations, on their part, are evincing more of a disposition to see if some way cannot be found for a satisfactory compromise of the questions at issue.

The withdrawal of the main Montenegrin army from Scutari helped save the feelings of the Austrians to a considerable extent, although the Black Mountain standard still flies from the Scutari fortress.

All amendments offered by California congressmen to offset the proposed sweeping reductions in the citrus fruit schedule went down to over-whelming defeat in the house today.

The citrus fruit paragraph as en-bodied in the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill was adopted.

Scotland Yard detectives today arrested Edward Clayton, on a charge of conspiracy in connection with an alleged suffragette plot to burn all the lumber yards in London. The arrest was based on letters Miss Annie Kenney, the militant suffragette, wrote Clayton, listing the lumber yards and describing the most effective method of firing them with chemicals.

Clayton, the militant suffragette, wrote today in the Piccadilly Circus tube station, throwing passengers into a panic. Suffragettes are suspected.

GREAT REDUCTION IN CROP PRICES

The average of prices received by producers of the United States increased 0.3 per cent from March 1 to April 1, which compares with an increase of 5 per cent in the same period a year ago and an average increase of 2.1 per cent during March of the last five years. On April 1 prices of staple crops averaged about 25.3 per cent lower than on like date of 1912, 3.7 per cent lower than in 1911, 18.5 per cent lower than 1910, and 13 per cent lower than 1909, on like date.

LOCO TRUCKS ARE POPULAR

Among the sales recorded at the Royal Hawaiian Garage last week were two motor trucks for the Pioneer Mill Co. for use in their plantation on Oahu, Maui.

One of the trucks is a two-ton Reo and the other a five-ton Locomobile, a duplicate of the one in daily use by Litty, McNeill & Libby, in bringing their pineapple product to the city from the windward side of the island.

With the increasing demand made upon truck manufacturers to furnish installations for a constantly increasing variety of purposes, it has been found that the policy formerly adhered to of employing one expert to prescribe for all cases is quite inadequate. This condition of affairs was thoroughly realized by the Locomobile Company of America and in selecting its sales force throughout the United States it has been careful to choose men who were intimately acquainted with the truck industry.

The Worker Must Be Well

In these days of sharp competition everyone who works should be keyed up to the highest pitch of efficiency. The rewards of business life go to the clearest thinkers, to the men and women who know and do things better than other people.

But who can do his best work when the health is impaired, when the appetite fails to demand the food necessary to sustain the body, when strength is lacking and ambition gone? Surely the part of wisdom is to begin at once to build up the body to its normal condition and this may be done more certainly by the use of

than any other medicine. It checks lacking coughs, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, restores flesh to the emaciated, and renews health and vigor. It is so agreeable to the taste that its regular use is a pleasure. Get it at your druggist's and be sure you get STEARNS'—the genuine.

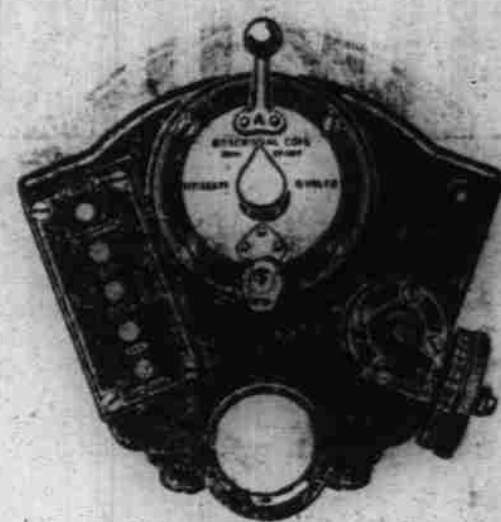

as far as that industry had been developed.

The Argentine government has had under consideration the possibility of the importation of camels into the country for use in agriculture. The concrete result of this consideration is a decree, dated December 24, 1912, in which are laid down the inspection and quarantine requirements that must be observed in case camels are imported. It was brought to the attention of the government that camels might well be utilized to advantage for various agricultural labors in certain semi-arid regions of the country, where vegetation and water are scarce, to take the place of the horse and the ox.

Packard THE GENTLEWOMAN'S MOTOR CARRIAGE

The New Packard "38" answers the demand for easy, safe and restful travel. This six-cylinder carriage combines the acknowledged advantages of left drive with electric starting, electric lighting and centralized control

Centralized control is an improvement enjoyed exclusively by owners of Packard vehicles. The control board is on the steering column and the controls are operated without leaning forward or moving in any way from the driving position. This perfect mastery of the car gives a new sense of security and means entire freedom from fatigue and the nerve tension experienced when operating an ordinary car.

The Packard Control Board

The row of buttons on the left side of the control board gives instant command of the electric lights. The button at the right actuates the magnetic inter-lock of the electric starter. The Bosch coil switch controls the ignition and the hand wheel at the lower right adjusts the carburetor to meet all requirements.

Every detail of operation is at the driver's finger tips. There is no stooping or fumbling for switches on the dash.

A ride in the Packard "38" will convince you that left drive, with electric self starter and centralized control, is the up-to-date arrangement for motor carriages.

THE PACKARD GOVERNOR

The Packard governor, automatically regulates the throttle opening in accordance with power requirements. In going up hill, for instance, the governor operates to increase the throttle opening and on a down grade it tends to close the throttle. The action of the governor prevents stalling the motor in traffic and avoids racing the motor when clutch is disengaged. It provides agreeable uniformity of road speeds and adds polish to the performance of any driver. It preserves the life of the motor and is a factor in the low cost of upkeep which is characteristic of the Packard.

You enter the front compartment from the curb and start the motor without stepping into the road. You have the added advantage of the full view ahead and greater assurance in driving through traffic.

Partly because of advanced engineering and partly because of the maximum service quality, a Packard Six bought this spring will have a higher relative cash value next fall, next spring or five years hence than any other car purchased at the same time.

Will you accept a demonstration? Owing to the unparalleled demand for Packard Sixes this spring, it is necessary to act promptly in order to secure a desirable date of delivery.
